Psych behavior revisited #flushyourmeds Scott Barry PDF ; http://web.archive.org/web/20150717051856/http://www.destroypsychiatry.org/psychobs.html ;

These mental health professionals cannot treat their own behavior yet they want to be paid using the psycho-BS on their patients which they do not practice themselves. These mental health professionals eventually end up in prison, lose their license, die, etc. Why spend money on the psycho-BS being dispensed when those in the psych industry don't even use the psycho-BS?

Suppose my profession is a cop that would mean I would be able to arrest people when I need to. Suppose my profession is a dermatologist that would mean I would be able to treat my skin disorder when I need to. Suppose my profession is a lawyer that would mean I would be able to sue in court when I need to. Suppose my profession is a mental health expert that would mean I would be able to handle my own mental health issues when I have to...but that is NOT true for the psych industry. Mental health experts are documented to commit murder, rape, sex with underage people, molestation, public masturbation, suicide, stealing, etc...these are mental issues which these mental health experts were unable to handle for themselves.

The psych industry is a scam. The psych industry knows that psycho-BS does not work and continues to sell it to the public; just read about the crimes these people in the psych industry commit. Some psych get their license revoked because psycho-BS cannot cure them. Some psych commit the same crime when their license are not revoked because psycho-BS cannot cure them. A psych can be a graduate from Harvard or your local community college and tells a patient that rape is wrong using psycho-BS and then goes out and commit rape on another patient. Do you see how hypocritical it is? The psych will say they care for the mentally ill when all they offer is medication that does not cure them. Do you see how hypocritical it is when a cure for mental illness exists called self-protection that uses no medication so it costs $0? Imagine somebody who can end schizophrenia and the psych industry has nobody to take the challenge. It is hypocritical of the psych industry to say it cares about the mentally ill but that is common from what has been written.

Do not consider what I write as ANTI-psychiatry but PRO-people. I am for helping people realize that mental illness is a created illness that means it can be cured and expose the flaw logic used by those selling psycho-BS. I do not benefit financially or in other manner from what I write. Consider the time and resources I invest to write the information you are reading-I offer it all for free. Let us read about what these parasite of society has been caught doing.

A Las Vegas psychiatrist convicted on charges stemming from masturbation in a Strip casino elevator
[LocalCopy]

"A jury found Dr. Steven C. Wein, 33, guilty of open or gross lewdness, a gross misdemeanor, after a one-day trial in June. The jury deliberated for about 20 minutes before returning the guilty verdict, according to court records"

"Authorities said Wein was riding in a Monte Carlo hotel elevator with three female Arizona State University students about 6 a.m. on Nov. 1, 2009, when he exposed himself in the confined space. Wein then was punched in the head by a man who also was in the elevator, authorities said."

"Wein's attorney, Mace Yampolsky, said in court documents his client was suffering from depression."

Now you understand that you don't need medication to deal with depression. According to this mental health expert, masturbation works just as well? How would someone interpret such a behavior from a psych who suppose to tell us how to behave?

Psychiatrist sexually assaulted his patient, touching and licking her breasts and digitally penetrating her
[LocalCopy]

"The Victorian Court of Appeal dismissed Leeks' case to the delight of the victim, who in 1979 and 1980 endured his undressing her, touching and licking her breasts and digitally penetrating her."

"Leeks last week denied having sexual relations with any of his patients, adding: "That's all I'm going to say."

" County Court judge Jim Duggan awarded the $55,000 in damages after finding Leeks had taken advantage of her for his sexual gratification. He said the psychiatrist's behaviour was reprehensible and a gross dereliction of duty."

"Leeks escaped scrutiny of his use of electric shocks on New Zealand children in the 1970s by promising not to practise again on the eve of a long-awaited investigation by the Medical Practitioners Board of Victoria." Another case of abuse by a mental health professional. Psych do masturbate publicly, some commit rape, but the article doesn't describe what it means by digitally penetrating a person, one wonders where this psych get such an idea from. The court judge Jim Duggan stated the psychiatrists behaviour was reprehensible.....exactly, the psych could not treat his own behavior because the psychiatry profession is a scam. The labor that psych perform do not benefit society just themselves.

Psychiatrist who raped two of his patients, including a heavily pregnant woman, will serve at least eight years in jail
[LocalCopy]

"An 80-year-old former psychiatrist who raped two of his patients, including a heavily pregnant woman, will serve at least eight years in jail.Alan John Stubley caused the expectant woman to haemorrhage after forcing sex on her in the 1970s in his consulting rooms, the Supreme Court in Perth heard on Thursday.He also forced sex on her weeks after the birth in the same room where the baby was asleep in a carry basket."

"Stubley, who claimed his behaviour was part of his approach to therapy, defended his actions by exaggerating the extent of her illness, Justice Narelle Johnson said."

So this psychiatrist believes that therapy involves raping his patients? This is someone who is in charge of our mental health? How do you interpret such behavior?

"The psychiatrist also exaggerated the second complainant's medical symptoms, telling the Medical Board her story was a product of mental illness" So when you go against psychiatrist, you are called mentally ill? That is the come-back it seems.

Psychologist sentenced for child molestation charges
[LocalCopy]

"The longtime psychologist for the Colville School District was ordered today to serve at least 14½ years in prison for molesting one of his students and attempting to molest another.

In addition to first-degree child molestation charges, Figley had pleaded guilty to possessing child pornography. Images of young boys were found on his school computer, and his home computer contained images of young boys engaged in sex."

"Prior to his arrest, Figley was part of an interdisciplinary team that is operated by a local child advocacy center. In that role, Figley was the school district's representative on a team that included the prosecutor's office, law enforcement and social services representatives who met to discuss child sex abuse cases, Rasmussen said.

It doesn't appear that the two victims, both of whom were 11, came in contact with Figley as a result of his work on the interdisciplinary team, Rasmussen said."

Here is another case of a mental health professional who cannot help his own mental health issues. This psych used his position to exploit children for his own gratification. Psych cannot treat behavioral issues, look at their own behavior. The psych industry is a scam. Anybody can pretend to be a psych and dispense advice for others to follow but why don't the psych follow their own advice? The psych knows the industry is a scam that is the reason. Psych will continue to play the mental illness game until it is game over.

2nd family accuses child psychiatrist of misconduct with 10-year-old girl
[LocalCopy]

"state Sen. John Carona, R-Dallas, plans to meet with the Texas Medical Board to discuss why Olmsted, a child psychiatrist, was allowed to retain his medical license after his 2006 no-contest plea to indecency with a child in a case involving another 10-year-old girl"

The psych industry is a scam and there are people in it whose behavior has been brought to the public yet they remain as mental health expert?
How can an expert in a mental health field not be able to treat himself?
Psychiatry is a scam. I suppose one cannot expect a surgeon to operate on himself but he would know the procedure to do so but the psych profession cannot use such an excuse.

A former psychiatrist sent to prison for 16 years today for duping seriously ill people
[LocalCopy]

"A former psychiatrist was sent to prison for 16 years today for duping seriously ill people out of $400,000 with false promises of organ transplants in the Philippines. U.S. District Judge David Hurd sentenced Jerome Feldman to 15 years and 8 months in prison and ordered him to repay $2 million to the victims of the phony organ-transplant scheme and an earlier Medicare fraud in Florida. Feldman Feldman pleaded guilty last year to wire fraud charges for luring five people to the Philippines for life-saving organ transplants. He'd set up a web site where patients sought quick access to transplants because they were desperate for a life-saving organ transplant."

So Feldman's medical license was revoked in 2002 and he was no longer a psychiatrist. Did his behavior improved when his misbehavior was caught? Apparently-NOT. Psychiatry is a scam profession and criminal will be criminal. Jail is the better option for criminals because a person's behavior does not change using psycho-BS. Plenty of psych are caught and put in prison and these psych are specialists in psycho-BS and they couldn't psycho-BS themselves into behaving better as it would have kept them out of prison.

A London-based psychiatrist accused of masturbating in front of three women [LocalCopy]

"Dr Adekumle Yesufu was said to have performed the sexual act at the home of a former work colleague in Carrickfergus, Co Antrim.

Belfast Magistrates' Court heard the 39-year-old now faces being barred from practising following convictions for three counts of exposure.

One of the women told how she and her friends walked out of the Quayside apartment in embarrassment when he started to touch himself."

Another case of public exposure of a mental health professional that has been caught. This behavior of masturbating in public must be a psych thing.....what can be going on in his mind.....

Calgary psychiatrist faces 21 sexual assault charges involving patients, some allegedly during court-ordered visits

"A Calgary psychiatrist who has frequently testified in court now faces 21 sexual assault charges involving patients, some allegedly during court-ordered visits.

Dr. Aubrey Levin, 71, was first arrested and charged March 23 after allegations that a 36-year-old patient was repeatedly sexually assaulted.Calgary Police said that following that charge, “the sex crimes unit was approached by numerous people alleging they, too, were sexually assaulted by Levin during counselling sessions or court-ordered visits.”

“These assaults allegedly occurred at Levin's Peter Lougheed (hospital) office or examination rooms.”

Dr. Levin has now been charged with 20 additional counts of sexual assault involving 20 other patients.

Alberta Justice has been reviewing all criminal cases in which Dr. Levin offered testimony to ensure there were no miscarriages of justice."

More cases of mental health expert doing criminal acts. Criminal behavior would be believable in other professions but not psych because it is suppose to treat such behavior. The profession is a scam that is why psych are criminals and the psych could not treat its own behavior.

NY Psychiatrist Guilty of $214K Medicaid Fraud
[LocalCopy]

"The MFCU investigation revealed that from 2003 to 2009, Mbonu individually and through his corporation, Sisck Inc., located at 914-A Columbus Ave. in New York City, systematically submitted hundreds of claims to New York State's Medicaid program for medical services that he or his medical group never provided.

MFCU also discovered that to double his payment from Medicaid, Mbonu billed Medicaid at the higher psychiatrist rate when psychotherapy sessions were performed by a clinical social worker."

Another case of a mental health provider who defrauded Medicaid. This is suppose to be a professional trusted by the public to treat mental health issues yet Mbonu was out to steal money. An interesting point to note is that Mbonu billed Medicaid at the psychiatrist rate when the psychotherapy was done by a clinical social worker. What this reveal is the psycho-BS can be spoken by anyone and it doesn't matter if it is a psychiatrist or a clinical social worker. The psych profession is a scam.

Ontario's most prominent psychiatrists yesterday admitted to fathering a child with one of his patients
[LocalCopy]

"In a letter he wrote to the /Star /in 1992, Malcolmson expressed how seriously he took sexual offences. "A sexual relationship in all its forms between a psychiatrist and his/her patient is a grave violation of the doctor-patient relation and an abuse on the part of the psychiatrist," he wrote in the letter to the editor

as president of the Ontario Psychiatric Association"

"Samuel Malcolmson, 71, former chief psychiatrist and clinical director at the Queen Street Mental Health Centre, pleaded through his lawyer "no contest" to allegations of sexual abuse of a patient, and to disgraceful, dishonourable and unprofessional conduct"

What is interesting about the quote above is that Malcolmson says one thing and does another. Obviously, Malcolmson has a public image so he says what the public wants to hear, but his behavior is the opposite, he fathered a child with one of his patient which he publicly states should never be done. Malcomson is not alone among psychiatrists, they have a public image and a private image. Some psychiatrists are caught while others are not. Psychiatry is a scam profession. Mental illness is a scam and the psych will play this game until people learn that the psych industry is a useless industry out to suck money from society.

PhD. in psychology unable to pass the state of California's licensing exam as a psychologist
[LocalCopy]

"The man who did psychological evaluations of children involved in divorce cases in San Bernardino, Los Angeles and Orange counties, guiding the courts in determining custody, and whose recommendations controlled the fate of thousands of individuals for over a decade took his own life earlier this year.

On Saturday May 29, according to the Los Angeles Coroner's Office, Bradbury who resided in Walnut, drove to an industrial park in the city of Industry. There, at 21508 Ferrero Parkway, a spot secluded by railroad tracks and relatively isolated and remote buildings, Bradbury shot himself while in his vehicle.

The death of Dr. Roy W. Bradbury, who was a court appointed expert for so-called 730 evaluations, has thrown into question the validity of the determinations that were made in hundreds of divorce cases in San Bernardino County."

"Despite Bradbury's possession of a PhD. in psychology from USC, he was unable to pass the state of California's licensing exam as a psychologist."

This is another case of a mental health professional who is not able to use what he learned to help himself with his own mental issues. The psych profession is a scam with nothing more than psych-BS. Psycho-BS did not help Bradbury. An interesting point to note about the profession is that a PhD in psychology cannot pass a licensing exam as a psychologist. How on earth did this guy became a PhD? The psych profession is a scam filled with inconsistencies.

Psychiatrist Allison Hargrave to remain in jail pending trial; defense admits she engaged in sex with 14-year-old
[LocalCopy]

"Psychiatrist Allison Hargrave to remain in jail pending trial; defense admits she engaged in sex with 14-year-old."
"A defense expert witness, psychiatrist Dr. Frank M. Ochberg, testified that a history of trauma caused Hargrave to experience psychosis when she allegedly enticed a minor to engage in sexual activity from October to February, a federal crime on which she was indicted and will be tried. During her treatment, she was diagnosed with a sexual disorder, major recurrent depression, post-traumatic stress disorder and could have a personality disorder."

So Dr. Ochberg believed that Psychiatrist Allison Hargrave had a history of trauma that cause psychosis? How come the psychiatrist Hargrave wasn't aware of her own condition? So after being caught with a crime, suddenly this psychiatrist Hargrave has psychosis? What kind of fool do this psych take people for. Psychiatry is a scam.

Psychiatrist Guilty Of Groping Teen In Office
[LocalCopy]

"Queens District Attorney Richard A. Brown said that Dr. Raj A. Danthuluri, 40, of Highview Avenue in Hicksville, L.I. was found guilty of third-degree sexual abuse and endangering the welfare of a child in a verdict rendered by Acting Queens Supreme Court Justice Barry Kron following a three-day bench trial.

Sentencing for Danthuluri has been scheduled for Feb. 13. He faces up to one year in prison and will be required to register as a sex offender and provide a DNA sample to the state's DNA criminal databank"

Here is a case of another mental health expert engaging in an inappropriate manner. The psych profession is a scam and this is another example of how hypocritical it is to preach how one should behave when the psych who is paid, behave so badly. The mental health training that these psych received obviously did nothing to treat the psych's own behavior. Luckily, the incident was reported early enough that it didn't lead to rape. So the person who sought help ends up being worst than before. But who knows what kind of past behavior this psych engaged in that leads him to thinking he can do what he did.

Psychiatrist loses licenses in three countries for “exposing erect penis”
[LocalCopy]

"Hastings, a Sand Lake resident, was employed by the county Department of Mental Health when a court sent the boy to her for counseling in 2006. State Police began investigating her in October of the following year after a trooper found her waiting in a car outside Tamarac High School, where the boy was a freshman at the time.

"Ilardi was working at Charter North Star Hospital in Anchorage, Alaska. On several occasions, Ilardi exposed his erect penis to a female nurse at the hospital and forcefully attempted to have sex with her. Despite her objections, Llardi touched her sexually before she managed to escape."

This mental health expert Llardi, tried several times to use his penis but was rejected by his target. The news of his penis caused him to be rejected by THREE countries....don't you psychiatrists have a clue yet? People don't want to see your penis. This is not the way to behave professionally. The psych industry is a scam but at least have some self-respect. Keep your penis to yourself.

Psychiatrist sentenced in slaying

"A prominent Venezuelan psychiatrist who once ran for president has been sentenced to 20 years in prison in the murder of a young woman who was his patient

The attorney general's office says investigators found some 1,200 photographs of nude female patients in the psychiatrist's home. It accuses him of drugging the women and abusing them."

Another case of sexual abuse by psychiatrists and this one leads to murder. This is the so call profession that treat mental health problems. How insulting, psychiatry is a scam profession.

Psychiatrist surrenders license after exposing himself on prison video link [LocalCopy]

"A Northern Virginia psychiatrist voluntarily surrendered his medical license after exposing himself earlier this year over a live telemedicine video link from his home office to the Greensville Correctional Center.

According to a Virginia Board of Medicine consent order signed by Dr. Peter L. Campbell, "Campbell was observed by staff exposing his unclothed lower body on camera. . . . As a result of the foregoing incident, Dr. Campbell's employment was terminated." The Feb. 2 incident occurred as Campbell was waiting to see inmate patients."

So this quack was caught exposing himself. This is not the first time your reading about some quack exposing himself. But the question to ask is: Do you want such a quack to tell you how to behave and pay for such advice? Look at how the quack behave! The quack profession is a scam.

Psychiatrist who surfed the web to look at depraved pictures of youngsters is free to work with children again
[LocalCopy]

"A psychiatrist who surfed the web to look at depraved pictures of youngsters is free to work with children again. In April 2003 police raided his home and seized Watts' computer which contained an image of a naked girl aged between five and seven years old in sexual poses. Watts was fined £1,500 by Hereford Magistrates after admitting possession of an indecent photograph of a child under the age of 16."

"He blamed the stress of a 70,000-patient workload at the Blackberry Hill Hospital, Bristol, for his behaviour."

This is another case of a mental health professional who could not help his own behavior. He blamed "stress" as a cause for him viewing girls between ages five and seven in sexual poses. This is what his psycho-BS profession taught him how to deal with stress? The psych profession is a scam and the psych's behavior cannot be treated with psycho-BS.

Psychologist convicted of $3 milliion in Medicaid fraud
[LocalCopy]

"Jackson, TN - Lorne Allan Semrau, 64 of Jackson, Tennessee, was convicted by a federal jury on June 17, 2010, for three counts of submitting false and fraudulent claims to defraud health care benefits programs such as Medicare and Medicaid in Tennessee and Mississippi announced Lawrence J. Laurenzi, United States Attorney for the Western District of Tennessee.

Semrau was indicted in June 2007 and at that time was the Owner, President and CEO of Superior Life Care Services and Foundation Life Care Services. According to the indictment, Semrau contracted with nursing homes in Tennessee and Mississippi to provide medication and mental health services to residents. Between 1999 and 2005 Semrau submitted fraudulent billings to health care benefit programs in excess of $3,000,000."

This is another case of a mental health professional who knowingly defrauded the government health insurance in excess of $3mil. This person was supposed to provide mental health services yet engaged in such illegal activity himself. This is why the psych industry is such a scam. They pretend to "help" people while their real motive is self benefit and suck money from society. How can you pretend to be the "doctor" of mental health when your own mental health can't even be treated by your own methodology. The psych industry is hypocritical.

Psychologist pleaded guilty to having sex with a 14-year-old boy
[LocalCopy]

"Hastings, a Sand Lake resident, was employed by the county Department of Mental Health when a court sent the boy to her for counseling in 2006. State Police began investigating her in October of the following year after a trooper found her waiting in a car outside Tamarac High School, where the boy was a freshman at the time.

When the trooper asked Hastings what she was doing, she told him she was there to pick up her brother; the trooper, however, was familiar with the boy and knew he did not have an older sister. The student later detailed sexual encounters he had with Hastings at her Sheer Road home and area motels to police.

Echoing the trial judge's words at sentencing — where McGrath told her she was "given this young boy to help" and "did just the opposite" — the appellate decision notes Hastings abused the trust placed in her former position in concluding her prison sentence is not excessive"

This is another case of a mental health professional who instead of helping a person did the opposite and abuse a person's trust. Why wasn't Hastings able to deal with her own mental health issues? It is because Hastings is in a profession that is not more than psycho-BS. Hastings behavior is her own and psych-BS cannot change that but maybe prison will do a better job.

Psychologist treating sex offenders-downloading hundreds of pornographic videos and images of children
[LocalCopy]

"Joseph Belanger developed his dangerous obsession while working as a psychologist treating sex offenders in a state mental hospital in Jamestown,

North Dakota. After more than 20 years working at the hospital, Belanger admitted that he was under federal investigation for downloading hundreds of pornographic videos and images of children. The allegations immediately called into question his testimony as a witness in court cases involving the commitment of sex offenders.

In January, Belanger was sentenced to seven years in prison, and U.S. Bureau of Prison records show he's serving his time at the minimum security federal pen in Lompoc, California. Yet Belanger's case continues to ripple. Two cases of sex offender commitments in Iowa were overturned as a result of Belanger's tainted testimony - one of those offenders was committed last week after a second trial"

This is a case of a mental health professional used to treat sex offenders yet himself engaged in such an activity considered illegal. What kind of fools do these psych take people for. Your suppose to treat a person's behavior and yet you engaged in such an activity yourself? Why didn't you treat yourself? It is because it is a behavioral matter and psych don't know how to treat people just look at their own action. It is nothing more than psycho-BS. His case raises an important issue about psych court testimony because the psych industry is a scam.

Psychotherapist sentenced to prison for sex assault on patient
[LocalCopy]

"Tillery, 46, admitted to coercing the victim — a Gwinnett preschool teacher with a history of alcohol and sexual abuse — into sexual activity more than 20 times at his Norcross office in 2007. She paid $85 per hour for most sessions."

"The 32-year-old victim told the Daily Post on Wednesday she felt the sentencing was “a little lenient” but sends “a huge message for anybody in a position of power.” She feels that Tillery brainwashed her into acts she wouldn’t have considered otherwise."

"Tillery will serve eight years, probation following his prison stint, said Taylor."

So this mental health professional engaged in sexual activity with the victim as a form of therapy to threat her condition. Tillery also charged the patient money for such a treatment. This is not an unusual story in the mental heath profession because mental illness is a scam so anything a so called "doctor" use as "treatment" can work but there is never a cure as one can see from the numerous therapy visits. The psych's motive is self benefit plus sucking money from the patient. The victim feels that she was "brainwashed" into such an act so we know the psych is capable of such an action. People should be on alert of pscyho-BS coming out of the psych profession.

Waco psychologist sentenced to three years
[LocalCopy]

"Chieza, a licensed psychologist, owned and operated Chieza Psychological Services in Waco, Texas. Pleading guilty to the charges in December 2009, Chieza admitted that from at least 1999 until October 2007, she executed a scheme to defraud the Texas Medicaid Program that involved: submitting multiple fraudulent billings; filing claims for services rendered that were not personally performed by Chieza, as required by law; and filing claims for services that were not provided at all."

"Chieza admitted she billed for services which totaled more than twenty-four hours in a single day; billed for services in a single day which amounted to more than double the normal business hours of her practice; billed for services allegedly rendered during weekends, holidays, and times that she was known to be out of town and away from her practice;"

This is a case of a mental health professional out to defraud health insurance who was supposed to provide mental health to people. Don't you find it strange that Chieza would work more than twenty-fours in a single day? What kind of world was Chieza in to believe people are this stupid. But I suppose the psych scam has been going so well all these years that the psych feel they can get away with such things.

Anger management counselor serving a year in prison for pulling a gun on two federal marshals

[LocalCopy]

"According to court documents, on Jan. 25, 2010, Avila honked his horn at two Deputy United States Marshals, who had just returned to their cars after completing a witness interview on Americana Drive in Annandale. Avila initially left the scene after one of the Deputy Marshals waved him around. Avila then turned his car around and pointed a loaded firearm at the Deputy Marshals. The Deputy Marshals apprehended Avila and recovered the firearm after a brief pursuit.

Before his arrest Avila was a professional counselor and a licensed marriage and family therapist"

So here is a case of a mental health professional who cannot be saved by the psycho-BS that he tells others to follow. A person who is suppose to specialize in anger management yet pulled a gun on two federal marshals. How ridiculous can this psych industry be to expect people to continue to accept the psycho-BS that cannot save their own. Psych industry is a scam.

Psychologist, wife plead guilty to Medicaid, Medicare fraud
[LocalCopy]

"Psychologist Michael Miran and his wife, Esta, each pleaded guilty this morning to a count of Medicaid and Medicare fraud. The Brighton couple had been indicted in July 2009 on 31 felony accounts of defrauding the state Medicaid and the federal Medicare programs of $257,946.93

A guilty plea against the corporation Michael Miran Ph.D, Psychologist P.C., was entered by attorney John Parrinello, who represented Michael Miran and the corporation The indictment also accused the Mirans of allowing unqualified staff, including Esta Miran, to perform therapy sessions."

A Ph.D of Psychology caught in a medical fraud. Why didn't his psycho-BS training taught him to think about what he was doing would get him in trouble? It is because psycho-BS does not work. Psycho-BS didn't help him or his wife. Psycho-BS is simple even "unqualified staff" can be used to perform therapy sessions.

A psychologist who bilked Medicaid for over $550,000 was sentenced Thursday to two years in prison
[LocalCopy]

"Federal prosecutors in Atlanta say Paul D. Mangum submitted "thousands" of fraudulent claims to the Georgia Medicaid program for therapy work he did not perform.

In one case, he submitted over 100 claims for a child he'd seen once a week for a few months, acting U.S. Attorney Sally Quillian Yates said. In another, he submitted claims for the sibling of one of his patients though he never treated the sibling."

Here is another case of greed in the psych industry out to steal as much as possible. This psycho-BS industry is not about caring for people but it is about taking advantage of people. I suppose many in the psycho-BS industry is able to get away with medical fraud that is why other psych continue to do the same. This psych got caught but there are many psych out there who are still doing medical fraud that haven't been caught.

Psychiatrist struck off after sex with patient
[LocalCopy]

"A PSYCHIATRIST who had a two-year sex romp with a patient almost four decades younger than him has been struck off the medical register, the Sunday Sun can reveal.

Dr Graham Craig was 61 when he had the affair with the 23-year-old woman – known as Patient A – who had been admitted to his clinic for severe depression.

It is not the first time Dr Craig, now 72 – whose area of practice is Newcastle – had an "inappropriate relationship" with a patient. He was found guilty of unprofessional conduct for an affair with a woman 10 years ago."

Dr Graham Craig behavior was unprofessional ten years ago when he was found guilty of unprofessional conduct and now he is guilty of another inappropriate behavior with another patient. So Dr Craig's behavior was not able to be solved with the psycho-BS that he uses on his patient. Why should people continue to pay for psycho-BS since it is useless!

VA psychiatrist charged in road-rage gunfire
[LocalCopy]

"On August 4, 2010, psychiatrist Alex Abelardo Fider surrendered his license to Medical Board of California, agreeing to not petition for three years to have his it reinstated.

This action was done as result of actions taken upon Fider in Tennessee. On May 20, 2009, the Tennessee Board of Medical Examiners placed Fider's medical license on probation for three years following his March 10, 2009 guilty plea in the Criminal Court of Marion County, Tennessee, to a felony charge of reckless aggravated assault relating to a road rage incident wherein he fired a gun striking another vehicle containing children. He was sentenced to three years criminal probation."

"A Nissan Quest carrying an adult and two 11-year-olds was exiting Interstate 24 on Sunday when three shots were fired from a Dodge Caravan, Tennessee Department of Safety spokeswoman Julie Oaks said. At least one round hit the Nissan, she added."

"The arrest report said Fider, a passenger in the van, told the trooper the shooting was an act of road rage, Oaks said."

Here is another case of psycho-BS being useless. The psychiatrist Fider got angry and decided to put a few bullets at another vehicle without regard to who could be in the vehicle and what harm it may have caused. Children in the vehicle could have been shot. With all the psycho-BS he has been taught, his solution for being angry was shooting a few bullets at another vehicle. This is the person whose job is to dispense psycho-BS to other people. The psych industry is a scam.

Counselor accused of trying to get client involved in prostitution
[LocalCopy]

"A Kentucky mental health counselor is accused of trying to get one of his clients to take part in prostitution.

According to Paducah Police, a woman came to them claiming 70-year-old George Kyle made sexual advances toward her, including fondling her.

The woman said Kyle told her he was running a secret, alternative "sex therapy" counseling business and that he wanted her to participate.

Kyle allegedly told the woman she would need special training and that he would provide that. He also allegedly invited her to meet him at a local hotel for a training session.

Wednesday morning Kyle pleaded guilty to a charge of promoting prostitution."

This 70-year-old mental health professional wanted to have sex with his "patient" so he offered to find her employment at his alternative sex therapy counseling business. But the patient must receive training session from this 70-year-old counselor first at a local hotel. This counselor violated his patient's trust and wanted to make her into a prostitute. But the mental health counselor was trained in the art of psycho-BS and used it on his patient by calling it "sex therapy" counseling service when it was nothing more than prostitution. So this patient was smart enough not to fall for the psycho-BS. Remember that mental health professional use psycho-BS on victims not on themselves. But sadly, there are plenty of people out there today who still buy into psycho-BS even when the mental health professional themselves do not practice it.

School counselor gets jail for sexual contact with girl
[LocalCopy]

"Calling her former school counselor “unethical,” a teenage girl dramatically confronted the man in court about his betrayal that involved sexual contact with the girl.

What you did, Mr. Lattari, brought me down for a long time. But I can sit here in front of you and say I will not let you take any more from me," the emotional 17-year-old girl testified Wednesday in Montgomery County Court during the sentencing hearing for Michael James Lattari.

You were wrong. You were a man who I entrusted with knowledge of my life, whom I was supposed to receive help from because that was your job. Your job was to be a counselor, not a friend, not a buddy, just a school counselor," the Montgomery County girl continued. "And what makes you even more disgusting to me is the fact that you were in an alternative school, a last chance for many kids to straighten out their lives.

You were unethical and then some, disgraced a good school's name and used your authority to mess me up," the girl, who was 16 at the time of the incident, testified."

Here is another case of a mental health professional who violated his client's trust. Lattari took advantage of his situation to exploit a girl whose situation brought her to a last chance alternative school. Lattari used psycho-BS to take advantage of her not to treat his own behavior. Lattari "mess" her up. In essence, those who dispense psycho-BS are paid to do so that is why they continue to spread psycho-BS but they don't really follow the teaching of psycho-BS as can be seen from their crimes.

Somerset County Psychologist Agrees to License Suspension
[LocalCopy]

"A psychologist who allegedly referred patients for treatment by an unlicensed colleague has agreed to the suspension of her license, deemed to be a revocation, and also will pay restitution to patients and civil penalties.

Sally A. Wright of Neshanic Station, who operated a private practice under the name "Wellspring Resources Unlimited," referred patients to another person in her practice who was not a licensed psychologist. Wright called her colleague, Larry Brotzen, a “doctor” when referring patients to him.

Wright also billed insurance carriers for psychological services rendered by the unlicensed Brotzen and also engaged in other forms of fraudulent billing. Following an investigation separate from the Professional Board case, Wright pled guilty in April in U.S. District court to having committed health care fraud."

Although this mental health professional committed fraudulent billing, Sally Wright was correct in that patients wouldn't be able to distinguish psycho-BS whether it be dispensed by a licensed psychologist or one who is not licensed. This is what I been saying, psycho-BS can be dispensed by anybody! The fact that Wright committed the crime of fraudulent billing shows she wasn't a believer in the psycho-BS she sells to others. The psych industry is a scam.

Supervisor at the Ohio Hospital For Psychiatry sentenced 18 months in prison [LocalCopy]

"COLUMBUS, Ohio — A former supervisor at the Ohio Hospital For Psychiatry who was accused of having sex with a patient was sentenced on Friday to 18 months in prison.

Christopher Wiggins, 38, pleaded guilty earlier this week to reduced charges of attempted sexual battery.

The hospital fired Wiggins after a 16-year-old girl who was under his care accused him of having sex with her. A hospitalized mental health patient cannot legally consent to sex with a caregiver.

The allegation was not the first against Wiggins or the hospital, 10 Investigates' Paul Aker reported.

A year earlier, another girl accused Wiggins of having sexual contact with her. While the hospital notified Franklin County Children Services, it did not follow the standing advice of state regulators that encourages hospitals to call police directly."

This mental health professional used his position as supervisor of a hospital to have sex with an underage girl. This behavior of Christopher Wiggins was also brought up by another girl a year earlier. The psycho-BS that these people sells to the public are obviously not practiced by those in the psych industry as we can see from Wiggin's behavior. Psycho-BS are used to take advantage of people.

Psychologist Sentenced on Child Porn Charges Surrenders License [LocalCopy]

"Howard Weinberg, 61, waived his right to a hearing before the Iowa Board of Psychology in November and agreed to voluntarily surrender his license.

Weinberg, who was the first director of the Iowa City Crisis Center, was sentenced in September to the maximum 10 years in prison on federal child pornography charges, followed by 10 years of supervised release.

He pleaded guilty in March to federal charges of possessing sexually explicit materials involving children.

In 2008, an Iowa City computer business notified the Iowa City Police Department after discovering child pornography on a personal computer Weinberg brought for repair.

One image showed a naked child tied face down with a rope, police said."

This psychologist behavior cannot be treated with psycho-BS. He enjoyed what he did that is why he did it. Weinberg likes looking at children in a pornographic manner. Psycho-BS is used on other people not themselves. But there are plenty of mental health professional with criminal activities who are caught as we can see from what has been written and those that are not caught remain doing their criminal acts. If Weinberg's computer wasn't brought for repair, Weinberg would continue on with his child porn behavior. The psych industry is a scam so why allow it to sell useless psycho-BS and medications.

Prison therapist loses license after affair
[LocalCopy]

"The state board that regulates psychologists has revoked the license of Kristel K. Rider, a prison therapist who had a sexual affair with one of her patients and then shot him.

Rider admitted having a sexually intimate relationship with her former patient, Lamount K. Friend, starting April 3, the night he was released from Neuse Correctional Institution.

It is a violation of the legal and ethical rules governing the conduct of psychologists for them to have romantic relationships with their clients due to the influence that therapists can exert.

A state psychologist since 2004, Rider lost her job with the state Department of Correction after shooting Friend in the back on April 21, less than three weeks after his release. He survived the wound from the .38 caliber slug, which passed through his chest inches from his heart.

Friend, a convicted felon from Clayton, is now back behind bars in the Watauga County Jail, charged with five counts of violating a domestic violence protective order barring him from contact with Rider"

This psychologist is typical of what you been reading. Rider violated the relationship with her client and had sex with him. Her psycho-BS apparently did little to help Friend who end up being shot by her and went back to prison because of her. As a mental health professional, shouldn't Rider set a better example? As I have been saying it is so hypocritical of these mental health professional selling their psycho-BS when they cannot even handle their own mental issues.

Psychotherapist arraigned on firearms charge
[LocalCopy]

"STAMFORD -- A Stamford psychotherapist charged with possessing firearms while being a convicted felon -- a status he achieved with a bizarre and long criminal record -- was arraigned in state Superior Court on Wednesday.

In 1987, Gagnon was arrested for wearing a silver badge and driving a car that appeared to be an unmarked police car outfitted with a red flashing light.
He pulled a woman over with an expired temporary registration in Brookfield and told her he would let her go if she would have sex with him, according to the appellate court decision that upheld his convictions. Gagnon then grabbed the woman's breasts, the documents said. The woman put her car in gear and sped off.

Gagnon was convicted of criminal impersonation and third-degree sexual assault. As a result of the felony conviction, he has a lifetime listing on the state's Sex Offender Registry.

Also, in 2004, a patient made a police complaint about Gagnon wearing a general's uniform while giving therapy. Gagnon, who was not in the Army, was charged with unauthorized use of a uniform and, a year later, pleaded no contest to the charge."

This psychotherapist was convicted in 1987 for impersonating a police officer so he can have sex with a women he pulled over. Those in charge of the mental health profession saw it fit to let him continue his practice after that incident? Then in 2004, Gagnon impersonates as a Army general while giving therapy? What kind of fool do these psych people take the public for. Now Gagnon is being charged for possessing firearms? Why is this guy allowed to be a mental health professional at all? Obviously, as I have stated so many times , those that sells psycho-BS cannot treat their own behavior as can be seen from Gagnon's history. The psych industry is a scam so beware.

Sister's drug death launches man's quest for justice
[LocalCopy]

"Court records link Dreyer not just to Silva, but to Brandon Keating, a 25-year-old who died in a Costa Mesa detox facility in 2007. Dreyer, who lost his psychiatry license this year, was charged with distributing around 150,000 pills of Oxycontin, Xanax, Vicodin, and other often-abused drugs. He was also accused of taking part in a conspiracy to illegally supply prescription drugs to a Tijuana pharmacy.

The coroner's office would determine that the 35-year-old divorced saleswoman had died two days earlier. Police found more than 20 prescription medications in the house; 10 of them were found in her blood, stomach and liver.

Siciliano noticed that a prescription for 90 Oxycontin pills – filled three weeks before – had been written by Dreyer, raising his suspicion.
Dreyer asked no questions about medical history, conducted no examinations, generally asked what drug the patient was interested in, and then suggested a symptom, according to records. He charged $100 for the visits and wrote a prescription for each investigator."

This mental health professional is an educated drug pusher in a more obvious manner than his peer. He made up symptoms for his client for $100 per visit and wrote them whatever drug the clients wanted. There were no medical history, or examinations conducted of his clients. Dryer's action caused the death of a 25-year-old and a 35-year-old. The psych industry is a scam and their behavior cannot be treated with the psych-BS that they continue to sell to the public.

State revokes license of psychologist Kristin Hibbard
[LocalCopy]

"On November 20, 2009, the Board of Psychology of the State of California revoked the license of Kristin Hibbard, Ph.D. According to Board documents, from 2006 to December 2008, Hibbard treated a patient who had been injured at work and was subsequently referred to Hibbard for counseling in anger management and depression.

In November 2008, the patient received a worker's compensation settlement in excess of $150,000. In early December, the patient and his wife went to Hibbard's office for his regular appointment, during which Hibbard requested that the patient sign a power of attorney giving her and another individual control over his worker's compensation award. The patient did not want to do that, at which point Hibbard became angry and yelled at him. The Board's document further states that Hibbard requested the wife to leave, threatening to have the patient involuntarily committed if she did not.

Further, Hibbard was arrested on December 25, 2008 in the burglary of her mother's home. Though Hibbard assured the Fresno police that she lived in the house, none of her keys fit the locks; the mother reported to police that Hibbard did not have permission to be there, did not live there and that she had changed all the locks after Hibbard broke into the house around Thanksgiving 2008.

Hibbard was thus charged by the Board with dishonest, corrupt or fraudulent acts and was served a copy of the Board's accusation and other documents, to which she failed to respond."

Here is another example of a mental health professional who is a Ph.D. psychologist that cannot treat her own behavior. She tried to force her patient to sign over his worker's compensation award. Hibbard, who is suppose to help her patient wanted to take advantage of him. Then Hibbard in December 25, 2008 was charged with burglary of her own mother's house and lied to the police when caught but Hibbard's mother wanted her arrested and told the truth. This Ph.D. psychologist was not able to use psycho-BS to treat her own behavior. Psycho-BS is sold to the public to make money.

Psychologist Michelle Theer sentenced to life in prison
[LocalCopy]

"The fourth anniversary of Capt. Theer's death is Dec. 17. Michelle Theer, his wife, was convicted of luring him to her office so her lover, John Diamond, could ambush and kill him.

Michelle Theer was sentenced to life in prison on the first-degree murder charge and given more than 13 additional years on a conspiracy charge. She is at the N.C. Correctional Institute for Women in Raleigh.

Diamond, who was an Army staff sergeant, was convicted of murder and conspiracy charges at a court-martial in 2001. He, too, is serving a life sentence.

Neither Theer nor Diamond is eligible for parole.

Capt. Theer was 31 when he died. His grave is at the Air Force Academy Cemetery in Colorado Springs, Colo. "

This mental health professional had her husband kill using her lover. A cold calculating women who lured her husband to his death at the age of 31. The psycho-BS which Michelle Theer sells to others did nothing to help her behavior. Her solution with all the psycho-BS training she received with her marriage issues was to kill her husband. What kind of fool do the psych industry take people for selling psycho-BS when these mental health professional cannot treat their own behavior.

Psychiatrist James Taylor suspended for three years for sex with patient [LocalCopy]

"The Health Care Complaints Commission recently prosecuted a complaint against the psychiatrist Dr James Tayor before the NSW Medical Tribunal. The complaint related to Dr Taylor entering into a personal and sexual relationship with a female patient and prescribing medication for her while in such a relationship. Dr Taylor admitted that he had had a relationship with the patient.

In its decision of 11 June 2010, the Tribunal found Dr Taylor guilty of professional misconduct and ordered him to be suspended for a period of three years. Dr Taylor had ceased his registration as a medical practitioner in 2009 and is currently working as an executive coach."

Here is a common crime among health care professional which is having sex with their patient. After finding out personal information on their patients, they would use it to make sexual advances toward their patient. Behavior like this is done because Dr. Taylor, like other people in the psych industry, wanted to do it so all the psycho-BS which they sell to their patient they would ignore on themselves. Psycho-BS is used to take advantage of people to make money, have sex with them, etc...

Hopson wasn't injured when shots were fired at him in 2003 outside the Middletown clinic where he worked and had been beaten with a golf club less than a year earlier.

Garlington was sentenced in Middlesex Superior Court."

Here is another case of a mental health professional who was not able to handle his own mental issue. This psychologist, Garlington put a contract to have another person killed. This is what his psycho-BS training has led him to behave as. Garlington makes a living selling psycho-BS and his solution was to have another person shot. Psycho-BS is useless, just to offer false comfort to the public as a way to make money, etc...

Psychologist Brandee Peikert sentenced to nine months in jail for sexual relationship with young client
[LocalCopy]

"Brandee Peikert, a psychologist who had a sexual relationship with a young female client, "lost all sense of reality" by letting the relationship become personal, a judge said today. I think this is a very classic example of someone who is possessed by a sexual addiction," Kent County Circuit Court Judge Mark Trusock said before sentencing Peikert. Peikert, 40, was sentenced to nine months jail, five years of probation and 300 hours of community service on charges of fourth-degree criminal sexual conduct and illegal use of a computer.

Prosecutors say Peikert became acquainted in 2004 with the victim, who was then a 16-year-old Kenowa Hills High School student getting therapy at Pine Rest Mental Health Services. At some point, the professional counseling turned more personal and the victim ultimately was vacationing with Peikert and living with her.

A jury decided that she did have sexual contact within that time frame.
As part of her sentence, Peikert must register as a sex offender, cannot have contact with the victim and may not use a computer during probation. She can get out of jail on an electronic tether after serving six months. "

This is another case of a mental health professional using the position to attain personal information on her client and using it to sex the client. The judge said Peikert is "possessed by a sexual addiction". So why didn't the psycho-BS Peikert was taught helped her behavior or why didn't Peikert seek other psycho-BS professional for help? It is because psycho-BS is useless. Peikert did what she did because she enjoyed doing it.

Psychologist Convicted Of Sexual Abuse Of A Mentally Ill Vulnerable Adult And Medicaid Fraud
[LocalCopy]

"A psychologist was sentenced to three years in prison for the sexual abuse of a mentally ill vulnerable adult and for Medicaid fraud.
Attorney General William H. Sorrell announced today that Dr. Donald E. Sanborn, age 67, of Bellows Falls, Vermont, was sentenced on September 30, 2009, in Vermont District Court for Windham County, on one count of Sexual Abuse of a Vulnerable Adult, a felony, and on one count of Medicaid Fraud, also a felony.

Judge Karen Carroll sentenced Sanborn to the maximum allowed under the plea agreement: The judge said the time Sanborn is in jail will give the victim a sense of security she now lacks. “It will provide her with a period of time so she can heal,” the judge said. Carroll also emphasized that she was sentencing Sanborn to jail to protect this victim and the general public, noting the former therapist had been victimizing patients for more than 30 years."

Donald Sandborn, a therapist who has been "victimizing patients for more than 30 years" was allowed to practice "helping" people? How come Sandborn was allowed to continue with this crooked profession where the patient can easily become a victim for so long. The psycho-BS which he dispensed to his patients he never used on himself. All the years Sandborn has been abusing his position was because he enjoyed doing it. Psycho-BS is useless because Sandborn knows about psycho-BS and didn't bother using it.

As part of a plea deal, Shirreff will have to complete a year of anger management and pay fines. He will also have to pay the victim's dental bills for injuries from being hit in the face."

This is another case of a mental health professional who was not able to handle his own mental health issue. Kansas psychiatrist Ethan Bickelhaupt pleads guilty to federal drug charges
[LocalCopy]

"TOPEKA, Kansas – Physician Ethan E. Bickelhaupt, 58, Topeka, Kan., has pleaded guilty to unlawfully prescribing controlled substances, U.S. Attorney Lanny Welch said Monday, Feb. 22, 2010.

Bickelhaupt issued prescription orders to individuals who were not bonafide patients. They filled the prescriptions at pharmacies in Topeka and Lawrence and gave the controlled substances to Bickelhaupt for his personal consumption. On occasion, he would compensate them by giving them cash or controlled substances. For example, he prescribed Adderall and Tylenol #3 to individuals for use during parties at his house. The Adderall was so they could stay up late and the Tylenol #3 was to ease the discomfort of hangovers and withdrawal from using cocaine.

In May 2006, Bickelhaupt wrote an email to a nurse stating that getting "drunk" and "high" was his "only" interest and he wanted to share the process with friends "socially, at no cost to them."

Here is a mental health professional who is into drugs. He enjoyed being on drugs that is why he did. Bickelhaupt did illegal prescription so his party can last all night using Adderall and to help with hangover, he used Tylenol #3. The guest at his place also had access to cocaine-he was generous with drugs. Psycho-BS is useless because Bickelhaupt enjoyed what he did.

Psychologist fired for alleged affair with patient agrees to license suspension in Pennsylvania

"Natalie Barone, a former top state psychologist fired for an alleged affair with a sex offender patient, won't be practicing psychology in Pennsylvania.

After surrendering her psychology license in New Jersey in August, she agreed to an indefinite suspension of her license in Pennsylvania earlier this month.

Barone had obtained a license there two days before being fired on April 30 from her job overseeing therapy for New Jersey's more than 400 civilly committed sex offenders.

In a consent agreement between Pennsylvania and Barone, the state has indefinitely suspended her license but will allow her to reapply for it after one year. The agreement was finalized Sept. 20. "

This mental health expert was fired for an "alleged" affair with a sex offender. Can an "alleged" cause Barone to be fired? Why didn't Barone protest? Can an "alleged" cause her to agree to a license suspension? Why didn't Barone protest? So Barone had sex with a sex offender which she was suppose to provide therapy for. Barone wanted to do it that is why she did it and she got caught. Psycho-BS is useless.

Two co-conspirators in the case, Sylvia Delgado and Robert Rael, were sentenced Tuesday to 51 months and 24 months jail time respectively for their roles in the crime.

Both have also been ordered by U.S. District Judge Alia Moses Ludlum to repay more than $1.4 million in restitution to the government, and serve three years of supervised release following completion of jail time.

This scheme would not have been possible with out the assistance of Dr. Solis and his medical license."

Psychiatrist admitted he used a sword to stab a patient he had plied with narcotics and had sex with
[LocalCopy]

"Dr. Douglas Rank pleaded guilty to first-degree assault as part of a deal with prosecutors. A grand jury had indicted Rank on a charge of attempted murder. Commonwealth’s Attorney Rob Sanders is recommending a 15-years sentence.

Rank, who maintained a home in Golf Manor, attacked Misty Luke of Covington on Feb. 21 in an apartment above his one-room medical office at 12 W. Pike St. Sanders said Rank stabbed Luke after she broke off their relationship.

“He took out his anger on her by stabbing her with the sword,” Sanders said. While Rank had no prior criminal record, the medical board had disciplined him twice before. One time was for having a sexual relationship with another patient and a second time for prescribing controlled substances to a female patient with whom he failed to maintain appropriate physician-patient boundaries."

The psychiatrist Rank had sex with his patient and when she broke off their relationship, Rank stabbed Luke with a sword. This is a mental health professional behavior who is supposed to sell psycho-BS to the public. Rank also drugged Luke with narcotics. The sword which Rank stabbed Luke with is said to be "civil-war era sword with a two-foot-long blade taken from a military memorabilia shop." Psycho-BS is useless look at Rank's behavior.

Los Angeles psychiatrist Norman J. Lachman gets slap on wrist for bizarre and exploitative patient abuses
[LocalCopy]

"On November 9, 2009, the Medical Board of California revoked the license of psychiatrist Norman J. Lachman. These charges involve two patients: then-25-year-old “M.B.” and his sister, “I.B.”

Face to face sessions were conducted in Lachman’s home where, on occasion, he struck M.B. in the stomach, chest and legs with a cane. On at least one occasion, Lachman struck M.B. in the testicles with his hand. Over the course of the sessions, Lachman called M.B. stupid and crazy. M.B.’s psychologist, “Dr. J.M.,” who attended conjoint sessions with Lachman and M.B. corroborated that Lachman called M.B. stupid and was emotionally abusive towards M.B. Examples: Lachman made M.B. buy dog food and threatened to make him eat it; ordered him not to contact his sister I.B. without his permission; referred to M.B. by a girl’s name and told him to imagine a male orally copulating him; asked M.B. to set him up with his female friends and also to send naked photos of M.B.’s girlfriends which Lachman would keep in his possession; asked M.B. to record pornographic videos for him and made sexual innuendos regarding I.B."

Here is a psychiatrist who did therapy in a strange way. Lachman would hit his patient M.B. in the stomach, chest, legs with a cane and even struck M.B. testicles with his hand. Lachman even asked M.B. to set him up with his female friends and send naked photo of M.B.'s girlfriend. Lachman, the psychiatrist, enjoyed what he was doing that is the reason he did it.

Psychiatrist Dwight F. King, convicted of sex with patients, withdraws application for reinstatement of license
[LocalCopy]

"On November 12, 2009, the South Dakota Board of Medical and Osteopathic Examiners issued a Findings of Fact which stated that psychiatrist Dwight F. King withdrew his application for reinstatement of his license while under investigation.

On March 22, 2007, a grand jury indicted King on 15 felony counts of sexual penetration by a psychotherapist on patients who were emotionally dependent upon him at the time. He was later convicted and was sentenced on October 5, 2007 to a suspended imposition of sentence. He was placed on 10 years supervised probation which included 90 consecutive days in the state penitentiary and seven consecutive days in Yankton County Jail each year of the 10-year probation. Additionally, he was required to pay a fine as well as restitution to his victims.

…a grand jury indicted King on 15 felony counts of sexual penetration by a psychotherapist… . He was later convicted and sentenced.

King applied to the Board for reinstatement of his suspended license and met with members of the Board's investigative panel who commenced an investigation of his application. During the course of the investigation, King withdrew his application."

Psychiatrist King who was convicted of 15 felony counts of sexual penetration of his patients wanted to applied for reinstatement. So when an investigation took its course, he withdraw his application. Why would King even be allowed to be back in the business? King did what he did because he enjoyed it. So why would this sort of individual be allowed back into dealing with patients? King's application for reinstatement should never have been considered. The psych industry is a scam so it should be one strike, you are out because these people are dangerous.

"A Colton psychiatrist surrendered his license to practice medicine on Friday after being accused of having sex with patients and wrongfully prescribing drugs to patients with histories of drug abuse.

The patient said Multani “paid her various amounts of money for sex, including one occasion in which he paid her $2,000 for sex,” according to an accusation by the medical board. He had sex with another woman between February 2007 and February 2008 while providing her with marital counseling, the medical board report said.

Investigators said the patient and Multani “met at various places to have sexual intercourse. The places included a hotel in Ontario and a house owned by (Multani) in Redlands.”

Multani, the psychiatrist used his knowledge of his patient to have sex with him. He paid this women various amount of money for sex. Multani violated the patient-psychiatrist rule from sexual interaction. This is not the first incident, as another women who is also Multani's patient said he had sex with her as well while providing her marital counseling. Multani behavior cannot be treated with psycho-BS. Multani enjoyed what he is doing that is why he does it. Psychologist used false names to avoid £1m property debt
[LocalCopy]

"Yehuda Crammer, 65, of Prestwich, Manchester, was sentenced to 30 months' imprisonment on Tuesday. He pleaded guilty to two counts of concealing property after he was made bankrupt in 2004.

A bankruptcy notice in the London Gazette in 2009 says he had used over 40 variations of his name, from Dr Y Krammer to Yehuda G Kremer. It also listed a number of addresses in north Manchester's Jewish neighbourhoods of Prestwich and Broughton Park, as well as locations in Bolton and Marbella in Spain, which had been used to secure £319,680 of loans - after he was declared bankrupt.

Judge Robert Atherton said the extent of Dr Crammer's dishonesty was "considerable".

A spokesman for the Department for Business, which brought the prosecution, said: "We are determined to crack down on cheats like these who profit by deception."

Crammer, who declared bankruptcy lied about his background with 40 variations of names to gain loans and concealing property. Crammer's dishonesty cost people £1m property debt. High-society Swiss psychotherapist gave patients acid, ecstasy

"The Zurich court gave the 62-year-old therapist a 16-month suspended sentence and a 2,000 franc (1,500 euro) fine for supplying the drugs during weekend therapy sessions between 2004 and 2008, the ATS news agency reported.

The psychotherapist, who was not named by ATS, handed out 700 doses each of LSD and ecstasy, 50 of mescaline and 150 of 2-CB, a synthetic drug similar to mescaline, for which the prosecutor wanted him convicted of drug dealing.

In court, the therapist said the illegal products were not drugs but "substances which allow the expansion of the consciousness."

This is a case of a mental health professional who is into using drugs. The psychotherapist called it "expansion of the consciousness" but the law saw it differently. He used his position to get people high. He enjoyed what he did despite what the law says. The psych industry is a scam.

This psychiatrist was spotted by law enforcement when he tried to access child pornography website. Clayton's PC was examined and found to contain child porn. Clayton knew what he was doing and he enjoyed what he was doing. The psycho-BS which is sold to the public, Clayton doesn't follow. Clayton knew about psycho-BS better than the public and it didn't help him so how can it help the public?

Psychologist who admitted downloading images of child pornography from the Internet must serve 151 months in federal prison
[LocalCopy]

"A Morehead psychologist who admitted downloading images of child pornography from the Internet must serve 151 months in federal prison, a judge ordered Monday.

Bunning commented that Stafford's was the most bizarre child-pornography case he'd seen, citing a nude Barbie doll found in Stafford's hotel room at one point with its arms, legs and neck tied, and the fact he downloaded pictures of nude mannequins, according to the news release.

Stafford was a counselor in Menifee County for children in 1st through 12th grades, according to a news release."

This psychologist who was caught with child pornography worked as a children counselor. That doesn't seem strange as an occupation for Stafford since he was into children in a pornographic manner. You may ask those in the psych industry who sell psycho-BS to the public, what happened to the psycho-BS that your selling to us? How come you behave the way you do? Your selling us useless psycho-BS.

Family therapist sentenced 30 years in federal prison for trying to beat and sexually molest two prepubescent boys

[LocalCopy]

"Jul. 21--TAMPA -- A 79-year-old family therapist was sentenced today to 30 years in federal prison and ordered to pay a $25,000 fine for trying to beat and sexually molest two prepubescent boys whose father he met on the Internet.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Amanda Kaiser said Friedlander had every intention of acting on his plans. "This case involves some of the most despicable facts that I've encountered in 10 years of prosecuting these cases," she said. "He discussed at length wanting to strip them, tie them up with a chain and whip them. ... This defendant not only wanted to engage in sex with them, he wanted to beat them first."

Charles Jackson Friedlander drove from Fort Myers to St. Petersburg with what a prosecutor called "implements of torture" -- a riding crop, a garrison belt and two razor straps -- after arranging to meet what he thought was the father of boys ages 10 and 11. Instead, Friedlander was arrested in what turned out to be a law enforcement sting."

This family therapist was caught trying to perform sexual acts on children. Friedlander wanted to beat the children up first before he has sex with them. Friedlander enjoyed discussing his desire for children sexually with other people and he drove to meet the people to perform his desire but Friedlander got caught. This is a family therapist who sells psycho-BS to the public. One may wonder how come he didn't use therapy on his own behavior or sought help from someone else for his behavior. it is because psycho-BS is useless. Friedlander enjoyed what his is doing that is why he did it.

School psychologist Rita Mueller sentenced to prison for “terror” campaign
[LocalCopy]

"On September 18, 2009, Illinois school psychologist Rita Mueller was sentenced to two and a half years prison for terrorizing several staff members of the Naperville School District with an anonymous letter-writing campaign. The campaign, which lasted for about two years, widened to include anyone

Mueller believed had some role in the perceived problem.

According to news reports, Mueller was unhappy with the way a particular teacher treated her daughter."

The psycho-BS which Muller sells to the public isn't useful to her. This psychologist didn't like the way a teacher treated her child. Her solution was to start a letter terrorizing campaign. Muller's letter campaign included making false accusation of an affair and one of a girl being sexually abused. Muller's behavior lasted close to two years. Muller enjoyed what she did that is why she did it. The image projected to the public is not the same as what goes inside the mental health professional mindset. The public should keep in mind that the psych industry is a scam.

St. Louis psychiatrist admits lying to FBI in Medicare probe
[LocalCopy]

"St. Louis psychiatrist Howard Goldstein pleaded guilty Tuesday and admitted to lying to an FBI agent about making false Medicare billings.

Missouri Attorney General Chris Koster said Goldstein engaged in “upcoding,” a scam whereby he would bill Medicaid for more work than he actually performed. Goldstein, for example, would spend five minutes or less with a patient and then bill Medicaid for a 20-minute session, Koster said.

Goldstein also agreed to pay $830,329 to the United States in a related civil settlement agreement and be excluded from participation in the Medicare program for a period of five years. In a separate civil settlement agreement, Goldstein’s former employer, SSM St. Charles Clinic Medical Group Inc. and SSM Healthcare Corp. agreed to reimburse the United States an additional $865,812 for Goldstein’s false charges to Medicare, bringing the total civil recovery from the investigation to nearly $1.7 million."

This psychiatrist was caught lying to the FBI in a Medicare probe. Goldstein engaged in a scam called "upcoding" which allowed him to bill Medicare more than the time which he worked. The investigation into this psychiatrist allowed the United States to recover close to $1.7 million. The psych scam industry is out to take advantage of the public so any recovery is better than none. The psycho-BS which Goldstein sells to his patients did nothing to treat his criminal behavior. Goldstein did what he did because he thought he could get away with it. It is the law and being caught that make people like Goldstein think twice of committing crime not the psycho-BS that is dispensed.

Psychiatrist charged with sexual assault
[LocalCopy]

"An Ottawa psychiatrist facing a disciplinary hearing for allegedly tying a rope around a patient's genitals and leading him around the office, and other bizarre sexual behaviour, has been charged with six criminal counts of sexual assault.

Dr. Juan Tejeda was found guilty of two counts of sexual assault after a former patient testified the psychiatrist plied him with alcohol to have sex in his office, car and in the victim's apartment.

Tejeda, 66, was handed a conditional two-year sentence in December, which included 16 months of house arrest and 240 hours of community service."

The psychiatrist Tejeda who is reported typing a rope around a patient's genitals was sentenced to a conditional two-year sentence. Is this appropriate sentence for what this psychiatrist did to his patient who attempted suicide because of what this mental health professional did to him? It is the law and punishment that keep these quacks in place because the psycho-BS that these quacks dispense is useless. Having a light sentence only encourage these people's behavior. The psych industry is a scam and society should exercise the maximum penalty until it is destroyed completely.

Child therapist sentenced on child porn charges
[LocalCopy]

"OTTUMWA — A former child therapist has been sentenced to just more than five years in prison on each of three counts involving child pornography and to 10 years of supervised release after imprisonment.

Joseph David Curtis, 66, of Ottumwa, was sentenced Friday, according to U.S. Attorney Matthew G. Whitaker. The charges were one count of receiving child pornography and two counts of possessing child pornography.

Curtis formerly worked as a child therapist at Ottumwa Regional Health Center. Hospital officials fired him in March 2007 after authorities charged him."

Curtis, a child therapist was found guilty of child porn. This happened because he took his computer for repair and child porn was found. It is a service to the public that a computer technician notified the police. The public should take part in monitoring the psych industry because it is filled with crooks. When the public see any mental health professional doing anything illegal, the public should report it to the police immediately. If psycho-BS was a legitimate field then those who are mental health professional would not be involved in any crime.

Psychologist targeted women gets seven years in prison
[LocalCopy]

"Fernando Cordero, 67, apologized to the victims during his sentencing hearing this morning in Santa Maria and asked for leniency, but Santa Barbara County Superior Court Judge James Iwasko nonetheless handed down the strictest possible sentence.

Cordero, who worked as a psychologist with the county?s Alcohol, Drug and Mental Health Services department, targeted women who he was treating.

A victim-witness advocate read a statement written by one of the victims, who said that in her grief she had wondered why she was alive, and now knows she lived to see Cordero be sentenced."

The judge Iwasko was wise to punish the psychologist Cordero to the strictest possible sentence. It is the law and punishment that keep mental health professional in line because psycho-BS is useless. A victim of Cordero said she was alive so she can see Cordero be sentenced. This is how bad the psychologist had ruined her. Cordero was also convicted of exploiting two other women. The public should quickly report anything that is illegal done by a mental health professional to the police because it may help someone in the future.

State restricts psychologist's practice after sexual allegations
[LocalCopy]

"In 1993, the board revoked the license of Bruce Leksa for seven years, after finding he had sexually touched a 16-year-old girl and had sex with her mother in the late '80s, according to health records. Both daughter and mother had been clients of Leksa's at the time; the girl had an eating disorder that began after her father died.

Years later, Leksa had a sexual relationship with the girl when she 19 and 20, the board said in health records.

After his revocation period was up, Leksa got a new license to practice in 2004. But it came with restrictions. He could only treat women over 50 and men of any age; had to submit written plans for his clients to a supervisor; undergo regular lie-detector tests; and refrain from touching clients except for a brief handshake. "

Leksa, the psychologist was caught having sex with a patient of his and touching her daughter sexually when she was 16-years-old. Leksa was also found later to have sex the daughter when she was 19 and 20 years old. This is what a mental health professional does? Leksa had his license revoked but it wasn't permanent. The psych industry is a scam out to take advantage of the public. The psycho-BS sold to the public is useless. Leksa should have had his license revoked permanently and face prison term. It is the law and punishment that keep these crooks in line not the psycho-BS.

Therapist's licence revoked for 'manipulative' sex with patient
[LocalCopy]

"She came to him as a patient in need of psychological counselling. Instead, Dr.

Michael Gadon turned those sessions into sexual liaisons.

She says he told her not to tell anyone, that no one would believe her anyway, that they would think she was crazy, that her workers' compensation benefits would be cut off.

The psychologist blamed professional burn-out, marital difficulties and depression for his "mistakes in judgment" but also seemed to blame his patient, saying he didn't take her "initial and persistent flirtations seriously" enough. "

Gadon, the therapist sex this female patient and she wanted to tell someone but Gadon told her people would think she was crazy and she would suffer financially. Gadon even blamed the victim for what happened when he was the one in charge of therapy. Gadon blamed depression for sexing this patient which leads to the point, Gadon doesn't know how to treat depression. The mental illness business is a scam. A person who is depress with a reason is normal. People do get depress because life isn't wonderful everyday. If the cause of your depression doesn't exist anymore than why would you be depressed? People who read this that know of any mental health professional committing some kind of wrong should have the courage to report them. Do not be afraid to report these people. As the female victim said "But if I can help just one person by standing up to this," she says, "my strength is for a reason." The psych industry is a scam, it would benefit society to take the worse of the people in it out until the industry itself is destroyed.

Medical Director Sentenced for Defrauding the Medicaid & Medicare Programs [LocalCopy]

"According to Acting Insurance Fraud Prosecutor Riza Dagli, Arnold Jacques, 61, of Jackson, the former medical director of the now-defunct Chambers Mental Health Clinic LLC, a mental health counseling center in Trenton, was sentenced to three years in state prison and ordered to pay a total of $49,941 restitution to the Medicaid and Medicare programs by Superior Court Judge Edward M. Neafsey in Mercer County. Jacques' sentence was based on his Sept. 8 guilty plea to second-degree conspiracy, second-degree health care claims fraud, and third-degree Medicaid fraud. The charges were contained in a state grand jury indictment returned on Nov. 13, 2007.

Jacques and his co-defendants, Pedro Acosta, 65, of Queens, N.Y., and Osvaldo Morales Sr., 62, of Bronx, N.Y., caused Medicaid and Medicare claims to be billed under Jacques' Medicaid and Medicare provider numbers even though he did not personally provide the counseling services billed. In addition, among other things, the defendants billed Medicaid and Medicare for longer counseling sessions than those that were actually provided, billed for family counseling in addition to individual sessions for the same patient in the same day, and billed for counseling services that were not rendered at all. "

The people who operated the Chambers Mental Health Clinic LLC intended to defraud Medicaid & Medicare by providing false information. These people were able to get away with it for awhile but was eventually caught. It is a service to society that people in the mental health service industry are closely examined and to prosecute them as strictest as possible. Jacques who is a director of the clinic was not able to treat his own mental issues because the psycho-BS which he sells to the public is useless. Jacques did what he did because he wanted to. It is the law and punishment that keep these crooks in line. So the public and law enforcement should monitored them with a microscope until the psych industry is completely destroyed.

Psychologist sentenced for indecent assault and unlawful assault
[LocalCopy]

"Nicholas Didenkowski, 32, treated the 17-year-old girl at the Queen Elizabeth Centre between November, 2007, and January, 2008, for an eating disorder and self-esteem issues. During that time he touched a scar on the girl's chest during one session to entice a memory of a car accident.

On another occasion during a discussion about the girl's weight he placed a hand on her stomach before moving it beneath her underwear to her pelvic bone.

The Ballarat Magistrates Court heard the teenager now had trouble trusting men and continued to have dreams related to the offending.
Didenkowski pleaded guilty last week to indecent assault and unlawful assault.

Mr Couzens convicted Didenkowski and sentenced him to six months' jail suspended for two years on the indecent assault charge."

The psychologist was supposed to treat eating disorder and self-esteem issues to a 17-year-old girl but instead he touched her in her private area. Didenkowski violated his patient and he thought the girl would not report his action. It is a credit to society that the girl reported this psychologist's behavior. The public should be brave like her. This is why the public and law enforcement must monitor people in the mental health profession with a microscope. The psych industry is a scam. The psycho-BS which Didenkowski was selling to the girl did nothing to help Didenkowski's behavior. Psycho-BS is useless. It is the law and punishment that keep these quacks in check until the psych industry is completely destroyed.

Psychologist suspended for bizarre, sexual incidents
[LocalCopy]

"On July 13, 2010, the Psychologists Tribunal of New South Wales (Australia) cancelled the registration of psychologist Graham Patrick Holbrook for three years (equivalent to a revocation, during which he may not reapply or seek registration).

In approximately May 2002, at school meetings, Holbrook make comments which were inappropriate, particularly words to the effect of "I like to ogle the high school girls in their gym skirts" and "Gee, I love my job. All those young girls in gym skirts."

"I am a psychologist and I work in local schools, but the money is terrible. I am thinking about taking photos of young girls for extra money. Would it bother you if I took photos of your daughter for the internet…photos for dirty old men?"

In approximately June 2002, Holbrook, in an interview/counseling session with a student, asked that student words to the effect of "Do you masturbate?" and "Do you ever masturbate in front of anyone?"

On February 23, 2004, during an interview/counseling session with another child, Holbrook pulled the chair in which the child was sitting toward him, placed his hands on the child's thighs and moved his hands up the child's thighs moving the hemline of her skirt up her thighs. When the child pushed herself away from him, he said words to the effect of "Sorry, you're just such a tease."

The pay was not to Holbrook's satisfaction but Holbrook was in a profession of his dream. He was a psychologist in a high school where he can see young girls in gym skirts. Holbrook's behavior range from wanting to take photo of the girls in the school to having a counseling session with a girl where he put his hands up her skirt up her thighs. Holbrooks enjoyed what he was doing but he didn't think he would get caught. It is because of people who are concerned about the public who brought people like Holbrook to public attention. Holbrook should also have served prison time for what he did. It is the law and punishment that keep these quacks in line. The mental health profession is a scam. The psycho-BS which Holbrook sells to the school children did nothing to help his own behavior. Psycho-BS is useless. People in the psych industry should be monitored at a microscopic level.

Tampa psychiatrist accused of pointing shotgun at pool man cuts deal [LocalCopy]

"A South Tampa psychiatrist accused of pointing a shotgun at a pool cleaner agreed Tuesday to enter a program that could lead to the charges being dropped.

The pool cleaner said he ignored Edgar the first time he yelled. The psychiatrist said Lafoe mouthed off. Edgar left and returned with a shotgun.

Lafoe said the doctor pointed it at him and said, "I told you to move." Edgar said he held the gun, but didn't point it. He held it in self-defense, he said, afraid of the much younger pool cleaner.

He was arrested in September and released after posting $2,000 bail.

Edgar's charges will be dropped if he successfully completes a pretrial intervention program for first-time offenders. "

Lafoe, a pool cleaner could not find the direction to his work order. Lafoe being lost encountered the psychiatrist Edgar who yelled at him. Lafoe being lost must have been shocked to see Edgar pulled a gun on him just because he didn't move when Edgar yelled at him to do so. Edgar is a psychiatrist who deals with mental health issues. Would you say Edgar's behavior was appropriate being a mental health professional? It is a service to society that Edgar's behavior was reported to the police. Would the public benefit from Edgar selling the psycho-BS which did nothing to treat Edgar's own behavior? The psych industry is a scam.

Couselor at a psychiatric hospital sentenced to nine months in jail [LocalCopy]

"A former couselor at a Kirkland psychiatric hospital must enter a sexual-deviancy program and remain under supervision for three years for assaulting a 10-year-old boy.

Richard Robillard, 43, was sentenced to nine months in jail on Friday.

He was originally charged with first-degree child rape but pleaded guilty last month to second-degree assault, agreeing that his intent was to commit child rape, Deputy Prosecutor Michael Mohandeson said.

The boy's family expressed anger at Robillard and the sentence; his godmother called the man a pedophile and accused him of raping the boy of his innocence."

The psycho-BS which the counselor Robillard dispensed at the psychiatric hospital did nothing to help his own behavior. Robillard pleaded guilty to a second-degree assault admitting he intended to rape the 10-year-old boy. It is law and punishment that keep these crooks in the psych industry in line. The family was outraged at the sentencing believing that a harsher punishment should have been given to Robillard. The boy's grandmother called Robilard a pedophile who raped her grandson. $1.1 Million Judgment Entered Against Cleveland Psychiatrist On TennCare

Fraud
[LocalCopy]

"A $1.1 million consent judgment has been entered against Cleveland psychiatrist Gulshan Sultan, to resolve claims against her in a joint lawsuit brought by the federal government and the state in January of 2007, U.S. Attorney Russ Dedrick said.

The complaint alleged that Dr. Sultan submitted false billing to the Medicare and the TennCare programs under two separate codes under her name when services were not performed by her but rather by a nurse without the requisite psychiatric training and licensing and also submitted bills on over 200 separate days for face-to face, time-based psychotherapy services when she did not perform the services billed. The complaint also states that on a number of days Dr. Sultan claimed to have performed time-based services well in excess of 24 hours.

Dr. Sultan agreed to the consent judgment to settle the claims alleged in the lawsuit as well as separate administrative claims of the Medicare program."

Although the psychiatrist Dr. Sultan was correct that the patients wouldn't realize if the psycho-BS was performed by a nurse or herself, Sultan wasn't honest about it in her billing to Medicare. Psycho-BS can be performed by anyone as long as the individual can speak it with a serious tone but it obviously has no effect as can be seen by Sultan's own behavior. It is a service to the country that Sultan's behavior has been caught. People in the psych industry should be monitored in a microscopic level because the psych industry is a scam. When society can take money away from a parasite like Sultan, then we are approaching a correct course.

Sheboygan Therapist Accused Of Sexually Assaulting Patients
[LocalCopy]

"MADISON - Attorney General J.B. Van Hollen announced today that a Waukesha County therapist has been convicted of two counts of Abuse and Neglect of Patients and Residents for improprieties at a Sheboygan County treatment facility in 2007.

The male patient said Monacelli counseled him about sexual abuse he suffered as a child. He said Monacelli told him the only way to forget the abuse was to "relive it and realize that it was not that bad." On at least three different occasions the patient said the therapist exposed himself and made him perform sex acts on him.

During the same time period, the female patient told investigators Monacelli encouraged her to talk about her past sexual encounters. Investigators said the man fondled the patient, exposed himself and had sexual intercourse with her over several weeks time."

The therapist Monacelli was convicted of abusing patients at a county treatment facility. According to a male patient of Moncelli, the psycho-BS dispensed to him was to relive his abuse by performing sex acts on Monacelli as Monacelli exposed himself. Another Female patient reported that Monacelli fondled her, exposed himself and had sexual intercourse with her. Monacelli was convicted of abuse and neglect of patients but was the sentence harsh enough? Given what the patients said, shouldn't the punishment be harsher? It is the law and punishment that keep these crooks in the psych industry in line. The psycho-BS which is dispensed to the patients did nothing to treat Monacell's behavior. Psycho-BS is useless so the law should take the opportunity to punish those caught as harsh as allowed.

Psychologist gets six years prison in drug death
[LocalCopy]

"On December 22, Miami psychologist Adam Feder, 42, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the 2006 death of his former girlfriend. Feder failed to call 911 after the 20-year-old girl—a former patient—took a lethal dose of the painkiller Oxycodone from an illegal stash inside Feder's home.

Police stated that Feder, who cannot write prescriptions, used doctors' prescription pads to obtain the drugs. "He just violated every imaginable moral, ethical and administrative rule that exists," Miami-Dade State Attorney Katherine Fernandez-Rundle said. "She was 19 years old and she went to him to seek counseling. You had someone that was very vulnerable." Feder was sentenced to six years in prison and four years probation and has forfeited his license to practice psychology. He is also being sued by the girl's family."

A patient of the psychologist Feder went to him for counseling and ended being his girlfriend. Feder took advantage of the patient and she ended up dead. Why is it permitted that a patient of a mental health professional is able to have any personal relationship with his client at all? If the monitoring of Feder was done, it should have been obvious that he shouldn't be allowed to have a personal relationship with the girl. This is why those in the psych industry should be monitored at a microscopic level. The psycho-BS which Feder dispensed to the dead girl did nothing to help his behavior. The police said Feder "violated every imaginable moral, ethical and administrative rule". Psycho-BS is useless as the psych industry is a scam. It is the law and punishment that keep these crooks in line so the harsher the punishment, the better it is for the public.

German Psychiatric Assocation admits Nazi psychiatrists' role in holocaust-era crimes
[LocalCopy]

"65 years after the end of the Third Reich, the German association of psychiatrists faces up to its dark history—at last. Only today it offers an apology for its crimes committed during the period of the National Socialism.

The subject of psychiatry's Nazi history is very important to me personally. I have always been aghast and wondered: How can psychiatrists kill their patients? And this has been done very extensively either by themselves or they have had other people do it.

Including the East European countries there were all in all about 300,000 mentally ill people whose psychiatrists caused their deaths. That's incredible.

In an advisory committee they declared that forced sterilization was compliant to the rules at that time and it was all done within the then current scope of science and nothing was to take back. This is once again a debasement for the victims. There was nobody to say anything against that."

"There was Professor Gerhardt Schmidt, head of psychiatry in Lübeck, Germany, who directly after 1945 came to a clinic where patients starved to death, meaning they were killed. He wrote a very outright book about these conditions. I read it as a student and I was highly impressed at the time. This man named Schmidt was not able to publish his book for 20 years because he was facing a Mafia of psychiatrists who didn't want anybody to foul their nest."

I think that when psychiatry admits its crimes, it deserves to be complimented. I want to compliment the article. It acknowledged the fact psychiatrists killed their patients being mental health professional who were supposed to be in charge of helping their patients. It also acknowledged that science at that time supported forced sterilization and that people in charge of mental health didn't see anything wrong with it. So we learn that psychiatrists do kill their patients and "science" isn't always right. Then there is something called a "Mafia of psychiatrists" that caused Professor Schmidt from publishing his book for 20 years on the horrific condition where patients were starved to death. Although one would wonder wouldn't a person with common sense notify the authority or go public and be brave about it since the book was not going to be published for quite awhile. But now we know that the psycho-BS which is dispensed to the public did nothing for those in the psych industry at the time to go against what was happening during the National Socialism period. Psycho-BS is useless. The psych industry is a scam and perhaps there is a "Mafia of psychiatrists" keeping the scam going.

State fines Pratt Street mental health clinic over doctor's hiring

"State fines Pratt Street mental health clinic over doctor's hiring
State officials said BBH should never have hired him because he was on a federal no-hire list because of his fraud conviction.

The fine equals the salary and benefits that the nonprofit clinic paid Dr. Roman Ostrovsky during the 14 months he worked there as an administrator. The penalty comes amid questions about the finances at the West Pratt Street mental health clinic, which was the subject of a recent Baltimore Sun investigation.

Health providers like BBH that receive Medicaid payments are barred from employing anyone on the federal government's "exclusions" list of people who have defrauded Medicaid, which is jointly funded by the state and federal governments."

Dr. Roman Ostrovsky was hired by a mental health clinic without a proper background check. How does one explain that being in a federal exclusion list, Ostrovsky got hired. Being a mental health clinic that doesn't take the law seriously makes people wonder what type of people is running the clinic. Ostrovsky behavior is typical. Psycho-BS is useless so he would obviously lie about himself having a record of medical fraud. It is the responsibility of people who come in contact with those in the psych industry to not trust their words and perform an exhaustive background check on them.

Arizona revokes license of mental health counselor for sex with client [LocalCopy]

"On May 7, 2010, the Arizona Board of Behavioral Health Examiners revoked the license of professional counselor James Gorton.

According to the Board's report, Gorton counseled a husband and wife from December 2007 through August 2008. Soon after terminating treatment with the wife, he began engaging in social activities with her.

The Board's report indicates that he engaged in sexual conduct with the wife before she was divorced from the husband."

Gorton, a counselor for a married couple who went to him for "help" took advantage of his patients. While counseling the husband and wife, Gorton learned things about the couple. Using the information which he gathered, Gorton managed to sex the wife. The couple wasn't divorced during the period when Gorton sex the wife. One has to wonder, should a mental health professional even be allowed to have any personal relationship with a client at all. The psych-BS which Gorton dispensed to the couple did nothing to help Gorton's behavior. Gorton took advantage of his position to sex the wife. The psych industry is a scam so the public should be careful who they tell their personal information to.

Clinical psychologist jailed for fraud

"A 46-yea-old clinical psychologist was jailed for five years on Tuesday for fraudulently obtaining short-term finance to renovate a house in Constantia.

Bongiwe Victoria Jagne's scheme to obtain loans from the bridging-financing company, Capcon, was "calculatedly designed, and well-planned", ruled Bellville Specialised Commercial Crime Court Magistrate Amrith Chabillal.
Jagne forged a letter, purporting to be from attorneys in the United Kingdom, falsely stating that UK90,000 was due to her from the sale of property in the UK.

She used this letter as security to persuade attorney Arno Schipper, a director of Capcon, to advance her loans totalling R720,000. She was found guilty on five counts of fraud. This prompted Chabillal to ask how Jagne had managed to obtain free legal aid representation, which was intended for the very poor."

The psychologist Jagne forged a false sale of property in the UK letter to secure a loan to renovate a house of her. She was convicted of fraud and used free legal aid representation when it was supposed to be for the very poor. This psych is out to take advantage of people and the legal system that is in place to help the poor. The behavior of this mental health professional shows us that psycho-BS is useless. Her behavior does not support what psycho-BS is supposed to do which is to help people to be a better person and help them with their problems. Her solution was to use illegal means to get what she wants. The psych industry is a scam offering solution to the public which their people do not use. Why would the psycho-BS work on the public since it doesn't work for the psychologist?

State revokes counselor license for sex with teen client

"On May 6, 2010, the Washington Department of Health (DoH) revoked the credential of registered counselor Andrew Phillips for unprofessional conduct.

The DoH's charges against Phillips (which were issued in April 2010) state that between July and August 2009, Phillips, who was then employed at at Community Counseling Institute of Tacoma, provided drug and alcohol counseling to a 17-year-old female client. Between approximately October 2009 and November 2009, the client was placed with Phillips and his wife in the course of a dependency action. Between these latter dates, Phillips is alleged to have engaged in sexual misconduct with the teenager, including but not limited to hugging and kissing the client, fondling client's breasts, sexual intercourse and mutual oral sex."

Phillips, a counselor for a 17-year-old female client for drug and alcohol ended up "adopting" her to live with his wife. It was during living with Phillips that the counseling turn to into sexual acts. Phillips sex his female "client" which he was supposed to counsel. Phillips was married at the time when he sex his live-in "client". Phillips did not dispute the DoH investigation into this matter. The behavior of this counselor shows you that psycho-BS is useless. Phillip did what he did because he enjoyed it. The psycho-BS he dispensed is not practice by him, it is used as an advantage over people. Why is a mental health professional able to have any personal relationship with a client? It should be obvious that those in the psych industry should be monitored at a microscopic level. The psych industry is a scam and the public should be careful when telling those in the mental health field about their personal information.

West Bloomfield physician's license suspended for felony conviction [LocalCopy]

"Dr. Chilakamarri Ramesh, a West Bloomfield psychiatrist, who was convicted of conspiracy to commit naturalization fraud on Aug. 18 in federal court in Detroit, had his medical license suspended last Friday by the Michigan Department of Community Health. Ramesh, 55, was sentenced to 10 months in prison and ordered to pay $30,100 in court assessments and fines, DCH said.

According to the indictment, Ramesh signed 953 false and fraudulent "N-648" waiver forms on behalf of about 492 citizenship applicants in Dearborn, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis. An N-648 waiver allows an applicant to seek and obtain U.S. citizenship without passing the English-proficiency part of the naturalization exam. Ramesh falsely diagnosed those people with mental defects that ranged from retardation, post-traumatic stress disorder, learning disabilities or dementia.

From 1990 to about 2000, Ramesh was an assistant professor of psychiatry at Wayne State University School of Medicine. A Wayne State spokesman said Ramesh isn't currently on the Wayne State faculty. "

Ramesh, a psychiatrist shows us how mental "disorder" can be created with just a pen. Ramesh made false diagnosis totaling 953 forms so the applicants can become a U.S. citizen without taking the exam. It was accepted as true diagnosis and nobody suspected the applicants didn't have these disorders. This is how the mental health field is. The psych industry is a scam and Ramesh was well aware of how he could take advantage of it. Although Ramesh was eventually caught, he was successful at the deception. Being an assistant professor and a psychiatrist, you think Ramesh would behave better with the psycho-BS which he teaches but psycho-BS is useless. Psycho-BS is really just a pseudo-medical BS invented to fool the public into accepting the psych industry. The psych industry is a scam so people should monitored those in it and report anything that they do that is illegal. It is the law and punishment that keep the quacks in the psych industry in line not the psycho-BS that is sold to the public. The harsher the law punished those in the psych industry the safer the public can become until the psych industry is completely destroyed.

Psychologist convicted of 3 criminal sexual conduct charges, 2 misdemeanors [LocalCopy]

"ST. JOSEPH - A Berrien County Trial Court jury deliberated less than four hours Monday before finding a Stevensville psychologist guilty of having sexual contact with a teenage patient he counseled in 2009. Robert McIntyre, 58, stands convicted of three charges of fourth-degree criminal sexual conduct with the girl.

McIntyre, who practices at Bridgman Psychological Services, where the victim said most of the sexual contact took place, is free on bond pending sentencing Jan. 13. He faces up to two years in prison.

In her closing argument, Assistant Prosecutor Kelly Travis told the jury the case hinged on credibility, and McIntyre's version of events was not believable. McIntyre claimed that the victim came on to him many times but he never had sex with her.

Travis argued that if that was true, an experienced mental health professional would not continue to counsel her in the unconventional way he described, which involved a lot of time alone together in various places.

On one occasion, McIntyre brought the girl home late at night and "drunk, sick drunk, vomiting drunk," Travis said. But confronted by the girl's mother, McIntyre claimed he did not know she was intoxicated."

The psychologist McIntyre, a 58 years old who told a jury a teenage patient "came" on to him. McIntyre wanted to sex this girl and he was successful in sexing her. There is evidence of her being drunk and seen making out with him. Is this what a mental health professional does? The behavior of McIntyre cannot be changed with psycho-BS because McIntyre is a specialist in psycho-BS and he sex his teenage client. It is the law and punishment that keep these quacks in line and the harsher the punishment the safer the public would be. The psych industry is a scam.

Therapist gets prison, probation for sex abuse
[LocalCopy]

"A former therapist from Libertyville was sentenced to 3½ years in prison Friday after she admitted having sex with a 14-year-old client.

Once she is released from custody, Cori Lynn Rivelli, 27, will be on probation for 30 months and will be required to complete sex offender counseling.

Assistant State's Attorney Mary Stanton said Rivelli was a counselor at Kids Hope United in Lake Villa and was counseling the boy last year.

The two engaged in sex acts at Rivelli's apartment, at the Lake Villa facility and when Rivelli drove the boy to Peoria to visit his parents."

Rivelli, a therapist for a 14-year old boy succeeded in sexing him. Rivelli is a counselor for Kids Hope United who used her position to take advantage of her patient. Rivelli enjoyed what she did that is why she did it. Psycho-BS which she dispensed to the children at Kids Hope United is useless. Rivelli's behavior showed that psycho-BS does not work. It is the law and punishment that keep these mental health workers in line and the harsher the penalty the better it is for society. The psych industry is a scam.

State suspends license of psychologist Steven A. Korn for sexual exploitation of female patient
[LocalCopy]

"On September 22, 2010, an Administrative Law Judge from the Office of Administrative Hearings, Medical Quality Hearing Panel, State of California, signed a Decision on Petition for Interim Order of Suspension on psychologist Steven Allan Korn.

According to the document, Korn engaged in sexual relations with, and sexual exploitation of a 26-year-old female patient who'd come to Korn in June 2008 for treatment of anxiety and depression.

The document contains transcriptions of several e-mail exchanges of an intimate nature, in which their relationship is mentioned. It also contains transcripts of telephone calls the patient placed to Korn which were recorded by a Medical Board investigator, in which the patient brings up their sexual relationship—which Korn does not deny, though he attempts to try to get the patient to recant her complaint against him to the Board."

Korn, a therapist for a female patient who went for treatment of anxiety and depression managed to sex her. Korm was successful in sexing her after a few therapy sessions. Korn knew what he did was a violation of the law but Korn did it anyway because he enjoyed it and didn't think he would be caught. It is the law and punishment that keep these quacks from exploiting people so the harsher the punishment the better it is for society. If the punishment was the death penalty, I would think Korn would reconsider his behavior to sex her. The psych industry is a scam.

Seattle psychologist suspected of voyeurism takes his own life
[LocalCopy]

"A clinical affiliate at the University of Washington, former consultant to the Seattle Archdiocese and past president of the American Board of Forensic Psychology, Greenberg, 59, had recently admitted to Seattle police that he surreptitiously videotaped several women using the restroom in his Montlake office. Afterward, he masturbated to the images, police say. A spokesman for the King County Prosecutor's Office said a decision on whether to charge the therapist had been pending, and last week state regulators suspended his license.

Several days before that, speaking in a shaken, weary voice, Greenberg called the UW psychology department to tender his resignation.

Doug Mooney, a friend and attorney, said the therapist had penned one suicide note to his family and another for those hurt by his transgressions."

Greenberg, a psychologist who was once the president of the America Board of Forensic Psychology was caught videotaping women. Greenberg enjoyed watching the women so much that he masturbate to them. Greenberg was not shameful of his action but when it was revealed he became shameful. Greenberg's reputation was ruined and so he took his own life. The psycho-BS which Greenberg dispensed to his "clients" did not work to save his own life. Psycho-BS is useless. If psycho-BS was truly effective, wouldn't Greenberg be alive today? Greenberg, being the president of American Board of Forensic and caught masturbating to the women he videotaped, did not have the courage to face his crime so he took his own life. The psych industry is a scam and those in it should be monitored closely and it may even save those in it like Greenberg.

Michigan social worker Carrie Alice Denbow suspended for sex with minor client [LocalCopy]

"Specifically, the document states that in or about December 2005, Denbow picked up client A and two other students, drove to a liquor store and purchased alcohol, gave one of the students money to purchase marijuana and then rented a motel room where they all engaged in drinking, smoking marijuana, sexual contact and sexual intercourse.

“Specifically, [Denbow] performed oral sex on the minor client A, followed by sexual intercourse, while the same was occurring in the same room between the other minor students. This was the beginning of [Denbow's] sexual relationship with client A," the document states."

Carrie Denbow a therapist of children managed to sex a 15-year old client. This unattractive women took advantage of a 15-year old boy using her position as a therapist. Looking at her photo, one would wonder who would want to sex her but psycho-BS sellers are known to be able to "brainwash" people.
The psycho-BS which Denbow dispensed did nothing to help Denbow's behavior. It is the law and punishment that keep these mental health professional in line. The harsher the penalty for these people the better it is for society.

Psychiatrist convicted of contact with a foreign agent and possession of information with the intent of endangering state security
[LocalCopy]

"David Shamir, a psychiatrist, was convicted of contact with a foreign agent and possession of information with the intent of endangering state security. He never managed to deliver any secret information.

Shamir, a resident of a Tel Aviv suburb and director of a drug rehabilitation clinic, sent e-mails and faxes to Iranian and Hamas officials saying he could provide them with classified information, according to police and the indictment.

The indictment indicated the Iranians did not accept Shamir's offer. It did not say whether Hamas replied. "

The psychiatrist Shamir wanted money so he used the information which he gathered to try and sell it to an enemy of his country. Shamir's behavior is not unusual for those in the psych industry. He wanted money that is why he did it. The psycho-BS which shamir dispense is useless to treat shamir's behavior. The classified information which Shamir had in his possession is "worth" money so it would be valuable classified information. Every countries has psychiatrists who may come into contact with classified information so why trust them with such information when the security of your own country can be at risk? The psych industry is a scam that is why those in the profession should be monitored at a microscopic level.

Counselor was sentenced for criminal sexual contact and penetration of a minor [LocalCopy]

"Mark William Shaddock, 45, learned his fate during an emotional sentencing hearing in district court in Socorro on Thursday. The 17 months he's already spent behind bars — much of it in solitary confinement — will count toward his sentence. He will also be subject to mandatory sentencing of one year parole and will have to register as a sex offender for 10 years after he gets out of prison.

The girl testified during a previous hearing that Shaddock would come over to her house while her parents were at work, coax her brother to leave by offering his car keys, and begin molesting her after her brother left. She said Shaddock reached under her clothes and touched her breasts and genitalia during incidents on two separate dates in June 2009 at a staff housing unit for school employees.

Reynolds also was critical of Shaddock for his reluctance to admit to the offenses and placing the blame on the girl."

A school behavioral specialist , Mark William Shaddock, 45 was sentenced to 4 1/2 years in prison for criminal sexual contact and penetration of a minor. A school behavioral specialist is supposed to treat "students' inappropriate behaviors and provide a means to help the students become more academically successful." As a counselor of students, Mark couldn't treat his own inappropriate behavior where he performed the act on a 15 years old girl by reaching under her clothes and touching her breasts and genitalia. The girl devastated by the event wrote "I hope no one has to go through this kind of experience. He needs to pay for his wrongdoing. I hope justice will prevail." It is because of brave people such as this victim who makes us understand that those who claim to treat behavior should be able to treat their own behavior. Shaddock couldn't treat his own behavior just like the many cases that I have presented. Psycho-BS is a language invented to legitimize a scam psych industry and it has been demonstrated to be useless to treat behavior. To protect society those who are prosecuted should get the maximum sentence.

Troops' trauma branded a scam Ian McPhedran
[LocalCopy]

"A SENIOR military doctor has blown the whistle on what he calls the "mental illness gravy train". In an unprecedented attack on the military compensation system, Reserve Navy Commander Dr Doug McKenzie said the post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) epidemic was creating more illness than existed and was costing taxpayers millions of dollars.

He estimates that up to 90 per cent of recent mental illness pension claims could be false. Commander McKenzie said he had no beef with genuine PTSD cases, but he said it defied belief that 20 per cent of a warship's crew, for example, could suffer from the disorder when they had not been within 200km of any fighting. The navy has the highest incidence of PTSD of all three services.

A friend of his even fabricated a story about witnessing a fatal helicopter crash and was then diagnosed with the disorder.

"He said to me, 'Mate, the psychs will believe anything'." In the past 12 months, 738 veterans applied for PTSD under the Veterans Entitlements Act and 78 per cent were accepted."

According to McKenzie, 90% of mental illness pension claims could be false so we have a situation where the psych industry is encouraging people to claim disability for mental illness. The situation worsen when the tax payer have to pay for these people because PTSD could just be an exaggerated disorder. Even when a person is not involved in fighting, a person can be diagnosed with PTSD? This is what the psych industry does, create and exaggerate problems. The psych industry does not know how to do a "diagnosis:" of a mental disorder so anyone can claim to suffer from PTSD as the person said "'Mate, the psychs will believe anything." Without having an accurate way of doing diagnosis, the psych industry can claim a person to be mentally ill-that is the great fame of psych, which is to take away a person's common sense. The psych industry is a scam that wants people to be mentally ill because it benefits from it. As I have stated before, if a person has a reason to be depress then it is a normal behavior so it does not imply mental illness.

Army psychiatrist accused in killings
[LocalCopy]

"A U.S. Army psychiatrist, trained to treat soldiers under stress, allegedly opened fire Thursday in a crowded medical building at Fort Hood, Texas.

A cousin told reporters that Hasan "wanted to do whatever he could within the rules to make sure he wouldn't" be deployed in either Iraq or Afghanistan.

Video from the scene showed police patrolling the area with handguns and rifles, ducking behind buildings for cover. Sirens could be heard wailing while a woman's voice on a public-address system urged people to take cover.

Hasan, 39, graduated from Virginia Tech in 1997 and earned a doctorate in psychiatry from the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Md. He spent at least six years at Walter Reed before moving to Fort Hood."

The Fort Hood Texas tragedy reminds us that those in the psych profession is a danger to society and themselves. The psych industry is a scam and this case shows us that the psycho--BS which they are trained in does not help them. The psychiatrist Hasan, couldn't control his own emotion and began firing at innocent people. There are host of cases where those in the psych industry commit rape, murder, pedophilia, etc which only proves that those in the psych industry is a danger to society and their own family as well. The case of Stuart Greenberg, a psychologist, shows us that that those in the psych industry is even a danger to themselves. Greenberg committed suicide because he was unable to deal with his emotional problems. This is what the psych industry represents, hypocrisy.
It is with good intention that I advocate the destruction of the psych industry. Young people who can be trained to work in a "REAL" profession should not be geared towards psychiatry. To destroy the psych industry is a winning situation for anyone with a brain.

Marin psychologist sentenced to 8 years in child porn case
[LocalCopy]

"Donald Tosti, 76, who surfaced as a pornography suspect after taking his computer to CompUSA for repair, was convicted on two charges of possessing child pornography after a search of his San Rafael home and office produced a "large collection" of child pornography, including depictions of the rape of very young children, according to U.S. Attorney Melinda Haag.

Haag issued a statement describing Tosti as a psychologist who founded the Independent Learning Schools. "

The psychologist, Tosti who enjoyed child pornography became careless and left his child pornography in his PC that went to CompUSA for repair. To you child pornography psychologists, psychiatrists, mental health professional, be sure to clean your PC before it gets repair. Your sick behavior will be shown to the public such as possessing depiction of rape of young children. The psych industry is obviously a joke. Would you with common sense trust people of this sort who cannot handle their own sick behavior?

Jewell Sentenced To 29 Years In Prison
[LocalCopy]

"A former staff counselor at a Martinez, California juvenile hall facility has been sentenced to 29 years in federal prison for producing pornography of him molesting two teenaged boys.

54-year-old Thomas Perez Jewell, who lived in Pleasant Hill, was sentenced in an Oakland U.S. District Courtroom to prison after he pleaded guilty to one felony count of producing child pornography.

The Contra Costa District Attorney's Office had charged Jewell on 49 felony counts.

He was also ordered to pay $234,000 in restitution."

The counselor Jewell enjoyed child pornography so much that he produced some himself molesting two teenaged boys. Jewell who is "suppose" to be a counselor couldn't hide his secret life so was eventually caught. But there may be others in the mental health industry like Jewell who still enjoy their child pornography who have yet to be caught.

Psychiatrist given 25 years in health-care fraud case
[LocalCopy]

"An El Paso psychiatrist who bilked the government out of $12 million has been sentenced to 25 years in prison for participating in a health-care billing scheme. Senior U.S. District Judge David Briones sentenced Dr. Anthony Francis Valdez on Friday.

Valdez preyed on the most vulnerable members of our society -- the poor, the disabled and the elderly. In doing so, he sought to enrich himself by billing health-care entitlement programs," United States Attorney Robert Pitman said. Valdez is a psychiatrist and owner of the Institute of Pain Management. "

Dr. Valdez, the psychiatrist represents what the mental illness scam participants are able to accomplish when they put their minds to work. Valdez managed to defraud $12 million dollars which is not a small sum of money. Valdez cares most about himself not his patients. The mental illness scam benefits the creative thief but greedy ones like Valdez ends up being caught. But again compliment to Valdez for being able to defraud such a high amount of money which can make the other participants in the mental illness scam envious. There are cases where participants in the mental illness scam were caught defrauding with less amount of money so Valdez did well for himself.

Judge gives therapist 22 years for child porn collection
[LocalCopy]

"An Anchorage therapist who worked with children of Alaska military personnel was sentenced Monday to 22 years in prison for producing and receiving child pornography, according to Anchorage police and the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Police say a 2009 search at the West Anchorage home of Andrew William Young, 48, yielded the largest collection of physical evidence for a single child porn case in Anchorage."

The therapist Young managed to claim the title of the largest collection of child porn in Anchorage consisting of 750 videos and 4,300 images. Young was also found guilty of producing child pornography as well. With today's fast Internet connection and cheap storage, that record of having the largest child porn collection by Young may be broken by some other people who are also involved in the psych industry. Mental illness is a scam and those in the psych industry can be very sick, twisted, people.

Psychiatrist gets maximum sentence--30 years in prison--for federal sex crimes [LocalCopy]

"A federal judge on Friday sentenced Mani Batchu, a 32-year-old adolescent psychiatrist from Chicago, to three decades in prison for luring teen girls into sexual relationships over the Internet.

Batchu's victims included a 15-year-old from South Hadley – who appeared along with her family in U.S. District Court for the sentencing – and two more unknown girls FBI agents found were featured in sexually explicit home videos when they seized his computer in 2009."

Batchu a psychiatrist was found guilty of luring teen girls to have sex with him. Batchu, of Indian descent, came up with the excuse it was "culturally appropriate to court a significantly younger girl as a wife" but the judge found the excuse to be "supreme phony". There were also video of two girls in sexually explicit home videos so is Batchu saying it is part of his Indian culture as well to make such videos? Batchu's excuse may have worked on others in the past but not to the judge or readers who learn to be on guard against those in the psych industry. Mental illness is a scam and Batchu got caught playing his game but there are other Batchu out there because the psych industry still exists.

Woman Gets 35-Year Prison Sentence in $200 Million Medicare Fraud [LocalCopy]

"Judith Negron, 40, was sentenced Thursday by U.S. District Judge James Lawrence King, who also ordered her to pay over $87 million in restitution.

Negron, along with two other owners and executives with American Therapeutic Corporation, was arrested in October 2010 in the scheme that prosecutors said billed Medicare for mental health treatments that patients didn't need."

The owner of American Therapeutic Corporation performed astonishingly well in comparison to other "fraud" mental health professionals with over $200 million defrauding Medicare. Negron will be remembered as someone who stands out in the mental illness scam in the category of fraud with such a large sum of money. It is not unusual when those in the mental health field are caught doing criminal behavior. The better ones like Negron managed to accomplish more before they are caught. Mental illness is a scam and the Negron of the world would not have attain such an opportunity if the scam ceases to exist.

Fallston psychologist pleads guilty to child sex abuse
[LocalCopy]

"David Wayne Schrumpf, 44, of the 4400 block of Prospect Road, pleaded guilty to one count of child sex abuse and two counts of second degree assault of three girls he treated. Two of the victims were sisters.

Schrumpf will also be required to register as a sex offender for the rest of his life and voluntarily surrender his license to practice psychology.

A 7-year-old girl whom Schrumpf had been treating told her mother that Schrumpf had touched her inappropriately during one of their treatment sessions. The mother questioned her other daughter, who was 10, who also said that Schrumpf, her doctor, touched her in private places."

The psychologist Schrumpf enjoyed treating children especially girls where he gets to touch them in their private places. Schrumpf was only caught because the 7-year-old girl told her mother about the incident. People should be made aware that those in the psych industry should not be trusted and any behavior out of the ordinary be reported. The psych industry is a scam and incidents like these would not have occurred if the scam ended. With a FBI director like Robert Mueller, one can't expect much. I find the behavior disturbing in what Schrumpf did but I can't speak for Mueller. One can only judge by the action that someone takes and I would end the mental illness scam while Robert Mueller continues to do nothing to stop it.
